NOTED DEMOCRATS TO SPEAK AT BANQUET

Wilson Message to Be Read Jackson Day and Leading Party Men to Be Heard

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Twelve of the leading figures of the Democratic party, including most of those prominently mentioned for the presidential nomination, are on the list of speakers made public today for the Jackson Day dinner to be held here Thursday night.

A message from President Wilson will be read first at the banquet and speeches will be made by the following: William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of the Democratic National Committee; Governor Cox of Ohio; James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany; Champ Clark of Missouri, former speaker of the house; Governor Cornwell of West Virginia; Senators Hitchcock, Nebraska; Pomeroy, Ohio; Underwood, Alabama; and Owen of Oklahoma; and Mrs. Peter Olson, associate member of the national committee from Minnesota.

The banquet, incidental to the quadrennial meeting of the national committee to choose a time and place for the national convention, is expected to provide a vehicle for those in the running for the presidential nomination to place their views before the party leaders and the country.

Great interest centered in the president's message of greeting and in the pronouncements to be made by Mr. Bryan. Characterized as "an important word" by Mr. House, officials are being carefully guarded. Speculation revolves about what he may say on a third term and on the peace treaty as a campaign issue.

The Cow-Boy Dance at the Bertha Friday night will be a purely informal social function. All are cordially invited to attend. It will be given under the auspices of the Livestock Show committee.

The census taking of the government officers was one of the chief topics of discussion. There was on this subject will be written by students.
